

The Joel and Lois Social Impact Lecture Series
In partnership with The Penn Social Entrepreneurship Movement and
The Business and Development Innovations Lecture Series

Nena Stoiljkovic
International Finance Corporation
VP Asia and Pacific

Maximizing Finance for Development: Scaling Up Private Sector Investments

Moderator, Dr. Djordjija Petkoski
Senior Fellow, the Zicklin Center and Lecturer, The Wharton School

Monday, March 19, 2018
Room: AUD CPR; 3:00 – 4:00PM

Ms. Stoiljkovic will discuss business opportunities in emerging markets, linked to the World Bank Group goals of ending extreme poverty and boosting shared prosperity and the Sustainable Development Goals.

About Nena Stoiljkovic:

Ms. Stoiljkovic is responsible for all IFC operations in Asia and Pacific. She has global experience in development issues such as climate change, gender, and fragile and conflict-affected situations including through her recent role as Vice President of Blended Finance and Partnerships.

Ms. Stoiljkovic has a track record of promoting development finance innovation in a variety of leadership roles at IFC. Most recently, she played a key part in the corporation's efforts to build a new architecture for development finance with other institutions, governments, and the private sector. She helped shape the World Bank Group strategy, working with the International Development Association (IDA) on a pioneering private sector window to catalyze greater private investment in low-income and conflict-affected countries.

Ms. Stoiljkovic joined IFC in 1995 as an Investment Officer. Prior to that, she worked as a consultant at the Economic Institute of Belgrade. She holds an MBA from the London Business School.